

TREES ON FARMS

Farm field day

Planting trees on farms offers opportunities for farmers to diversify their income through revegetation, carbon benefits, increased agricultural productivity, and timber supply.

Learn how trees can benefit your farm and explore opportunities for agroforestry in livestock enterprises at this free farm field day event presented by the West Gippsland CMA and Maffra and Districts Landcare Network.

Speakers

Sheep and wool farmer Bob Gray will share his experiences establishing a hardwood agroforestry system in wet, steep country and what he's learned after 14 years.

Callam Reynolds from Maffra and Districts Landcare Network will explain how farmers can apply for funding under the Victorian Trees on Farms Program .
